

Students Society Meet
Takes Place Thursday
At 5 in Ballroom

Tickets for Red
And White Revue
On-Sale in Union

Vol. XXXVI, No. 64

Montreal, Tuesday, January 21, 1947

PRICE TWO CENTS

Annual Staff

The Revue Pinwheel

Members of the dancing line of the RED AND WHITE REVUE are seen above playing "footy", a popular campus sport. The Revue is being presented at Moyse Hall on Feb. 4-8. Tickets are now on sale in the lobby of the McGill Union at special student prices.

Revue to Preview At Dawson College

A preview showing of the Red and White Revue of 1947 will be presented at Dawson College on Thursday, January 23, in the Theatre beginning at 8.30 p.m.

A special chartered bus will transport the 28 performers to St. John's, where they will put on a cross-section of the production as it will appear in Moyse Hall from February 4-8. There will be no charge for this show, it was announced, and every student at Dawson College is welcome to attend.

Moir Wedderspoon and Jerry MacKinnon will be on hand to give a sample of their rhythmic tap routines, and they will present a duet to the music of Bill Russell, the pianist of the highly-reputed "Montreal Escorts" dance band. Bill Russell has also written many original songs for the show.

MODEL SHOW

The highlight of the evening will be the "Parade of the Models". These models were all hand-picked from the student body to appear in a modelling skit in the show. They are being interviewed this week by Ted Root over CJAD's "Midnight Express", which is on the air from 11.10 until midnight, when they will tell the radio audience something about the year's edition of the Revue.

Barbara Dornbush, vocalist for the "Westernaires" band, will be there to warble a few songs, as will Gordie Pfeiffer, who also sings for a local dance band. Ann Flemming, Continued on Page 4.

General Meeting Thurs.

Two main problems face the Students Society when they meet Thursday at 5 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. First, the resignation of the Band Executive has necessitated some sort of an investigation, and secondly, it is expected that some wide reaching questions on athletics in general will be brought up. It is necessary for the Society to meet, since an amendment in the Constitution requires it to meet within one month of the commencement of each term.

Revue Tickets Selling Well; Sat. Night Gone

Tickets for the Red and White Revue are selling well, according to a report from Dave Marks, who is in charge of the sales. Student seats for the Saturday performance, although they are priced higher than the other nights, are practically all gone. There are only the higher priced seats for outsiders left in any quantity. The other performances are also selling fast, with Tuesday and Thursday in heavy demand. There was no report as to how Friday night was going, as this performance has been set aside as "Dawson Night," and there are no reports from St. John's as yet. About fifty tickets have been called back from Dawson for sale on this campus.

Sales Engineering Topic of Talk Today

Mr. Vernon of the Johnson Temperature Control Co. will speak to all engineers who are interested in "Sales Engineering" today at 5.00 p.m. in room 33 of the Engineering Building.

Mr. Vernon who has travelled to Canada to speak to various groups in the city, spoke last night in the Prince of Wales room of the Windsor Hotel. In addition to his interesting talk Mr. Vernon has a

'The True Glory', Documentary Of Allied Invasion Shown at 5

The Film Society will present a documentary film "The True Glory" at 5 o'clock this afternoon in Room 250 of the Biology Building.

"The True Glory" was very favorably reviewed in Time magazine when it was first released, shortly after the fall of Berlin. Their reviewer calls it what moviemakers are constantly striving for but seldom achieve—a colossal picture. It graphically records the story of the world's greatest military campaign—the Allied Invasion of Europe—from Southampton to the fall of Berlin. Of the combat cameramen who shot the film, 32 were killed, 15 reported missing, and 101 were wounded. The picture is an excellent tribute to the skill, courage and splendid co-ordination of effort, of the hundreds of United Nations cameramen who made it.

FOUR DEBATERS WILL REPRESENT McGILL IN IUDL CHAMPIONSHIPS

Will Oppose Ottawa University And Bishop's on February 13th

Eighteen contestants turned out yesterday afternoon in the Union Ballroom to try out for the four places in the team representing McGill in the Inter-University Debating League. The subject under debate was "Resolved that the Veto Power contributes to the effective working of the United Nations" and each contestant was allowed five minutes in which to put his points across. The successful winners in order of their choice by the judges were Isadore Rosenfeld, Conrad Shatner, Leonard Beaton, and Roland LaPrairie.

The judges for these tryouts were Professor Mallory, economic professor at McGill University, and Ted Hugessen, veteran debater who represented McGill in last year's I.U.D.L. Finals when McGill was nosed out by St. Patrick's by the narrow margin of one quarter of one per cent.

TWO TEAMS FORMED

These four winners will be divided into two teams, one of which will debate February 13 in Ottawa with a University of Ottawa team, while the other challenges Bishop's University in Montreal, in the opening rounds of the I.U.D.L. Championship.

Isadore Rosenfeld upholding the affirmative first refuted many of the previously presented arguments for the abolition of the veto. He pointed out that the true interest of the smaller nations lay in the success of the United Nations, and that this organization cannot be held together without the veto power. Justice is relevant, he stated, and the rights of minority groups must be protected.

SHATNER TAKES 'YES' STAND

Conrad Shatner, too, was on the affirmative side of the question and pointed out that the principle of unanimity at present required of the Big Five acted as a school of mutual understanding and that the big responsibility which the veto power gave to each one of them would make them conscious of the important part each must play on the international stage.

Leonard Beaton, likewise supporting the affirmative, took a realistic viewpoint, showing that the veto was a necessity in the world of today. The only internationalists, he said, are the small nations, since it requires an international law to protect them. He argued that at present the U.N. cannot possibly govern the world, and that taking away the veto power now would be giving it too much power too suddenly, and it would soon fall to pieces.

Roland LaPrairie, the only winner on the negative side of the debate, declared that Man has now the opportunity to lay the foundation for a true peace and that the U.N. is man's present hope. He envisioned a powerful industrialized Russia of the future moving on Constantinople, and tying up all U.N. action in the Security Council by the exercise of her veto.

series of slides which he wishes to show to McGill engineers.

President Ritchie Ward of the Engineering Undergraduates Society has arranged the talk and all those who wish to partake of the speaker's wide experience in the States are invited to attend.

Grad Society Provide 'Gen Nite' Speakers

McGill's Graduate Society through the cooperation of the undergraduates interest committee, under the chairmanship of Alex Stalker, a past president, one-time president of the students council, are providing speakers for the remaining lectures in the 'Gen Nite' series, the first of which is to be presented this Thursday evening at eight o'clock in the Union Ballroom.

These talks, which deal with opportunities and problems and the educational preparation necessary for a career in the business world of today, are being sponsored by the education committee of the Arts and Science Undergraduate Society.

Dean Thompson, of the Faculty of Graduate Studies, Professor Hughes, department of Education, and Professor Beech, economics and political science, will address the first meeting which will be chaired by Prof. Gillson, Vice-Principal, Dawson College.

CHORAL SOCIETY

Rehearsal takes place this afternoon in Divinity Hall at 5:00. The main work for the Spring Concert will be "Blest Pair of Sirens"—Parry. Newcomers are welcome. Again, as always, will members please arrive on time. We have too little of it anyway, without this unnecessary waste.

Dear Editor

Traffic Situation Is Out of Control

By C. T. VADIT

Having been jostled around on this campus for a year and a half now, I feel I am entitled, with all due respect to Walter and the Board of Governors, to add my voice to the ever increasing clamour for a change in the Arts Building traffic situation.

I have no doubt there have been letters written on this before—perhaps even an editorial or two. To tell the truth, I never read the Daily any more since I was partially blinded by a vision of loveliness last fall. I encountered this particular queen as she slithered with all the suggestive finesse of a ram-tank from the ladies' common room. Unfortunately it was not the actual vision that did me in, but rather the healthy rebound off the opposite wall which landed me in a particularly inelegant position beneath the drinkig fountain. At this point, to add insult (cracked ribs) to injury (severe concussion), I was subjected to the dubious honour of acting as bar rail for a number of obviously parched camels. I received a very nice apology, however, when one of them felt me twitch. I had evidently been mistaken for a pile of cigarette butts.

Struggling to my feet I staggered toward the front door, but did I make it? Oh no. There was a shuffle, a shift to the left, and I found myself taking notes for a course I had never heard of in Moyse Hall.

But to return to the front door: I suppose the front door could not be done away with altogether. After all, there must be some barrier between the social aristocracy of this year (who stand inside the door bumming cigarettes, throwing down Bromos, and shouting "Heh, heh! Let's have a 'party!' and those poor time-worn "has-been" of last year (who stand around in the cold and snow, bumming cigars, and nonchalantly pare their nails with their rear molars)—O.K. What if they don't get a ring this year?

A remedy for all this? Well, keep your dicky in place and you will have one in good time. Another point of congestion is the foot of the stairs. Here the brightest lights of our political world mix with the proletariat. Here the filthy fascist and unmentionable bolsky chat amicably (using nothing larger than a Pal blade) while around them mill the ignorant masses, gurgling happily about such nonsense as economics, psychology, marks, exams, etc., etc. How we weep for them.

Well, there are the three main bottlenecks. 1. The communal watering hole outside the coeds' garage. 2. The front entrance, through which most people seem loth to pass—in either direction. 3. The several bottoms of the several stairs—a mixture of "Town Meeting", and the front row Gaiety.

What is to be done about them? Well, there are four possible solutions. Three of them involve measures ranging from NO PARKING signs and escalators to giving the whole place back to the Indians. The fourth, however, is a compromise. This solution simply calls for the demolition of the Arts building and the construction of a more efficiently planned one in its stead—and why not? There would be little change in class attendance, and just think!—something new to subscribe to.

Call for Cheerleaderettes

Council Approves Marcel Joyal As Chairman of NFCUS Group

Highlighting a long session last evening the Students Executive Council went on record with the decision to afford the opportunity of McGill co-eds to become "Cheerleaderettes". At the last meeting of the S.E.C. this directive was also approved.

Marcel Joyal, Law 2, was appointed chairman of the McGill Committee of NFCUS last night at the regular meeting of the Students Executive Council. The suggestion of Joyal's appointment was contained in a general report on the actions and future plans of the local NFCUS body from the retiring chairman, Clem Beauchamp. The report was presented to the meeting by Ted Blockley, who was also appointed as the Council's representative to the McGill group.

It was pointed out that NFCUS has included in their plans an affiliation with the Canadian University Press, which they founded prior to the war, and with the various panels of the National Society of Student Veterans. These affiliations are still in the early stages of discussion within the NFCUS body alone, however.

The Council continued a discussion of the coming Charlies Drive and is seeking a chairman for the committee. The Drive is planned for sometime in early March.

Some heated discussion centered around the amendments offered to the Council by the Student Labor Club for their constitution. The meeting decided to send several suggestions to the S.L.C. through the Constitution committee.

Approval was given to the Red and White Revue for the budget submitted by Director Gene Jousse. The Director outlined the items of expenditure and explained the basis of ticket price scales.

Dave Townsend reported on the Radio Broadcasting Committee which has been approved by the Board of Governors. The series of live broadcasts will get underway shortly with the Graduates Society indicating some interest in aiding the production with funds.

The Council decided to table discussion at the forthcoming Students Society meeting Thursday afternoon. It was hoped that some means of overcoming the present stalemate can be discovered.

Frank Common reported informally on the accomplishments of the Veterans Conference and indicated that the McGill group will continue its present course.

Zonta Gives $500 for Grad Scholarship

Commemorating the name of Amelia Earhart, famous aviatrix of a few years ago, the Zonta International, an association of executive and professional women, is offering a $500 graduate scholarship to encourage women to enter the field of aeronautical engineering.

This award is open to women graduates in engineering who are interested in this modern branch of their profession. It is tenable at any school where graduate courses in this field are given, and may be renewed for a second year if its holder is better qualified for another year's study than any new applicant.

Amelia Earhart, the pioneer aviatrix who was forced down and lost some years ago, was a member of Zonta International.

The chairman of the committee making this award is Miss J. Winifred Hughes. Applications for the aeronautical scholarship are to be filed with her at Alumni House, Syracuse University, 840 Crouse Avenue South, Syracuse 10, New York, not later than the first of March.

RVC Concert Series Sell Tickets Soon

Babs Williamson, a member of the executive of the McGill Students' Concert Series announced last night that subscriptions to the remaining three concerts which are to be given soon at R.V.C. will be sold at $3.25 per subscription. Tickets to single concerts will be sold, as previously, on the evening of the performance at $1.25 per student, and $1.75 for persons who are not university students.

Booths will be set up in the Arts and Medical buildings, and in the Union, on Thursday and Friday for the purpose of selling of subscriptions. They will also be obtainable from Walter in the Arts Building and at the Tuck Shop in the Union during the whole week.

Mario Berini, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will appear on January 31; William Primrose, world famous violin and cellist is to perform on February 28, and Jesu Maria San Roma, a brilliant pianist will be guest artist on March 21.

Causes of War Aired Thurs.

"Causes of War" is to be the topic under discussion when the four man panel of professors of the various social sciences conduct a round table meet on Thursday in the grill room of the Union.

Professor Higgins, outstanding authority in the field of economics, Professor Fieldhouse, historian, and Professor Laviolette, sociologist and psychologist, will give their views on the basic underlying factors leading to a major world conflict. A speaker of international law as yet unnamed will round out the quartet of experts.

This open meeting held under the auspices of the Political Economy and International Relations Clubs, Historical Society, and Sociological Society, is expected to provide interesting food for thought for all who attend.

Politicians Practise Harangues

To Debate P-C Bill In Union Ballroom 8 p.m. Wed.

A heated debate is expected Wednesday night when the Model Parliament will convene for its third session. It will be held as usual in the Union Ballroom at 8 p.m. with Prof. Mallory of the Department of Economics in the august role of Mr. Speaker.

The Progressive Conservative Government's resolution, dealing with the creation of Crown Companies, will be introduced by the Minister of Reconstruction, Ian H. Fraser. The Labour Progressive Party will be His Majesty's, Most Loyal Opposition at this session, and it is understood that they will attack not only the Resolution in question but the sponsoring party as well.

The P.C.'s have stated that they base their main argument on the principle of the supremacy of Parliament as the guardian of the people's liberties against the encroachments of the Executive. Speaking for the Government will be Roy Jackson, Robert Simpson, Leonard Beaton, and Prime Minister William Archer, who will deliver the rebuttal at the end of the debate.

The C.C.F. has declared its complete opposition to the P.C. resolution. They regard it as a backward step in legislation which would almost certainly have to be replaced when a C.C.F. government comes to power.

The Liberals, whose national party passed the legislation, attacked in the P.C. Bill, will defend the Liberal record, not only in passing the law in the first place, but in modifying it as they have in the postwar period.

The Progressive Conservative Cabinet is as follows, with the members in order of seating. Minister of National Defence, Richard Birks-Nanaimo; Minister of Trade and Commerce, Lauri Hutchison-Yukon; Minister of External Affairs, Jack Bowle-Reid-Peel; Minister of Labor, D. Leonard Beaton-Parkdale; Minister of Transport, Robert Simpson-Kamloops; Prime Minister, William L. Archer-Neepawa; Minister of Reconstruction, Ian H. Fraser-Portage; Secretary of State, Pierre M. Archambault-Argentville; Minister of National Health and Welfare, Robert Walker—Calgary East; Minister of Planning and Development, G. G. Turner-Vancouver South; Minister of Fisheries, Beverly Reid-Oxford; Minister of Public Works, Eva Dolfus—Kent; Minister of Veteran's Affairs, Alan Boyd-Haldimand; Minister of Mines and Resources, Kent Boucher—Carlton; Minister of Agriculture, Roy Jackson-Souris; Minister of Justice, William Tynedale-Standstead; Post Master General, Peter Brophy—Royal; Minister of Finance, Otto Foreheimer-Muskoka; Minister of National Revenue, Clarence Fiske—Lake Centre; Minister without Portfolio, Gov't. Leader in the Senate, G. P. O'Brien.

News Insurance

At the Canadian University Press conference held in Toronto during the last three days before Christmas, student delegates from eighteen member papers recognized the significant need for a financially secure organization. It was agreed by CUP members that a fast national interchange of news was of value to them. With such a service, university students could be better informed about the thoughts, actions, and activities on most camps in Canada.

The member papers, previously more concerned with their own campus affairs, came to realize the fact that student problems were similar throughout Canadian universities, and that mutual benefit could be derived from a knowledge of the activities of other camps.

The cost of the news service established at the 1945 conference was more than some member papers could afford, while the administrative monies of the CUP treasury were insufficient for the ambitious program proposed by the conference.

It was up to the 1946 conference to clarify and remedy the financial troubles of CUP.

The smaller papers with a less frequent publication schedule made it clear to the conference that they were usually unable to carry any off-campus material at the present time due to a local increase in student activity and printing troubles.

On the other hand the dailies and bi-weeklies wanted and needed the news service afforded by this non-profit news agency, along with the understanding that the expense incurred by the individual paper be held within limits set by its budget.

To make available a news service, limited in nature while relatively inexpensive, the Ubysee, proposed a modified system involving the three central news bureaux, Manitoba, Toronto, and McGill, which were set up under last year's news service scheme. Main modification of the plan was to set a small yearly fee payable by members to their immediate bureau to cover wire costs. In effect, the plan was like insurance: it would protect the individual paper from supported by the conference and is now being missing a major news break. The plan was put into action.

Today, with student opinion becoming more and more aware of the need of national and of international co-operation between universities and youth in general, the feeling has become prevalent that such an organization as CUP could become one of the cornerstones of Canadian unity.

With problems of vital interest to the future of this country and indeed, the whole world, confronting students everyday, news of developments of every kind which help to form a picture of the activities and actions of the students of other Canadian universities have assumed roles of great importance in the printing schedules of most Canadian university publications. — T.E.B.

The Daily Meets
MADAME DONALDA

By Betty Sinclair

Some years ago an expectant audience waited in College Hall at the Royal Victoria College of Music, here in Montreal, to hear the debut of a young Canadian soprano. The audience were not disappointed, for the young singer was Pauline Lightstone, who was later to become internationally famous as Madame Pauline Donalda.

A graduate of the College, Madame Donalda won the Strathcona Scholarship, which enabled her to continue her training in Europe. Her professional name was taken from Sir Donald Smith (later Lord Strathcona), the founder of the College.

Her professional debut was made in Nice in 1904 in the role of Manon in Massenet's opera of the same name. A debut at Covent Garden followed a few days later, and was the beginning of her many triumphs there in the roles of Marguerite, Mimì, Carmen, Thais and many others. Singing opposite her at Covent Garden was the inimitable Caruso.

From London Madame Donalda went to New York for the opening of the Manhattan Opera House in 1906, and there she sang for many years under the direction of Oscar Hammerstein.

Now Madame Donalda has retired from singing, but most certainly not from opera, for she is the President of the Opera Guild Incorporated, which is to present Madame Butterfly at His Majesty's Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday this week. Madame Donalda founded the Guild in order to afford a chance to young Canadians to sing in their own country, a courageous venture which is meeting with deserved success.

The first performance given by the Guild was conducted by Emil Cooper, who will conduct Madame Butterfly this week, and the opera given on that occasion was Le Coq d'Or by Rimski-Korsakov, receiving its first performance in this continent. Subsequent productions of the Guild have been Così Fan Tutti, Hansel and Gretel, The Magic Flute, and Fidelio, and Mozart's opera The Magic Flute is scheduled for presentation in May.

Seventeen Canadian performers will be singing in Madame Butterfly, among them a pupil of Madame Donalda, who was the winner of the CBC's "Singing Stars" Contest last year. This young lady, Simone Flibotte, will sing the important role of Suzuki Marguerite Piazza will star as Butterfly, with the brilliant young American tenor, John Brooks McCormack, as Lieutenant Pinkerton.

William Wymetal, of the Metropolitan Opera Company, will be the stage director for Madame Butterfly, which is receiving its first performance in Montreal for 10 years. The orchestra will be that of the Opera Guild, composed of Montreal musicians.

LIFE OF COMPOSER
IN FRENCH MOVIE

La Symphonie Fantastique, now showing at the Cinema de Paris, exemplifies the French art of movie making, but unhappily suffers from an over-romantic interpretation of the life of that tempestuous French composer, Hector Berlioz. The foreword to the film explains that it is merely a poetic concept of Berlioz's life, and with the substitution of fiction for truth, he is presented most sympathetically, whereas his Irish wife, the unhappy Harriet Smithson, is portrayed as a shrew. This, to me, is unfortunate and smacks of narrow nationalism, patent in Hollywood biographies.

Notwithstanding, the film is delightfully entertaining, and Jean-Louis Barrault as Berlioz not only physically resembles the composer, but also conveys much of the mental torment which accompanied his whole life. Renee St. Cyr is a lovely and delicate Marie, while Gilbert Gil makes of Antoine a friend, both lovable and a little pathetic. The meeting of Berlioz and Paganini is quite exquisitely enacted, and the reunion with his son avoids any suggestion of pathos. To all lovers of cinema art, this is a film to be seen, although I would appeal to the management to improve the sound reproduction, which detracts from the listener's enjoyment of the many excerpts from the composer's work. Meet Your Faculty—
Prof. A.H.S. Gillson

By Paul Betts

To most students at Dawson College, Professor Gillson is a familiar figure; many a student veteran, "sweating out" an evening study in his dormitory has looked up from his books to find the Vice-Principal of the College walking into the barracks, to see for himself that no complaints or problems from the students under his charge would go unheeded. Many of these veterans may have wondered at his awareness of their problems, but it is not surprising in the light of the fact that Professor Gillson is himself a veteran of two World Wars.

In 1914, Professor Gillson joined the Royal Navy, in which he served as an Instructor Lieutenant, on various ships, until his resignation from the service in 1920, when he came to McGill. In World War II, Professor Gillson was with the R.C.A.F. from 1939 to 1944, as an instructor in Air Navigation, being in charge of the Navigation Visiting Flight under the Commonwealth Air Training Scheme. Thus, at the close of hostilities, he was peculiarly well qualified to take over the organization of an institution such as Dawson College.

Although he is a specialist in Applied Mathematics, Professor Gillson takes an informed interest in Music and Painting, and is a firm believer in the Humanities in University Education; he studied Art at the Slade School of Art in London, before attending Cambridge, where he graduated with the Tyson Gold interest himself in undergraduate activities, both at Dawson, and at McGill. For these reasons, Professor Gillson has been asked to act as chairman of the first of the "Gen Nite" series on Thursday night of this week. At this time, students will have an opportunity to avail themselves of Professor Gillson's wide range of experience and interest, and "Meet their Faculty" in person.

LETTER FORUM

Dear Sir,
We wish to lodge a protest against certain shortcomings of the McGill Daily in relation to the coverage of club activities.

The Daily has until recently had a column called Club News. The purpose of this column was to give the various campus clubs an opportunity to publicize their functions to the student body.

Recently certain notices have been submitted and accepted for publication and yet in subsequent morning issues they were either omitted or printed in some obscure corner on the back page. As a result many student clubs have been handicapped and could not carry on their functions in an efficient manner.

The Daily is a student newspaper and should reflect the general activity of students. It is our opinion that the Club News column is entitled to a permanent position in the Daily as this is one of the main means by which clubs can make known their activities to the general student body.

We therefore urge that more prominence be given to club activity by

- (1) Maintaining a permanent club news column; and
- (2) Allowing more coverage of club activities on the front page.

In this way the Daily will be of much greater interest to students and help to make for a more active student body.

Yours truly,
LIONEL GOLDFARB,
Student Labour Club,
JULIUS WEISS,
McGill L.P.P. Club,
MIKE OLIVER,
McGill C.C.F. Club.

Dear Sir,
A casual glance at letters and political comments submitted to The Daily during the past term would indicate that McGill is full of dissatisfied veterans, a natural enough result of the inclination of people to write only when annoyed.

However, a closer examination reveals that the names of only a very few individuals are repeatedly associated with these "gripes," and are frequently ones connected with the local L.P.P. club and the recently inaugurated Marxist School.

Marx advocated fostering discontent in order to pave the way for "revolutionary terrorism" (Marx's words) by a disciplined and faithful minority.

A "political comment" of Dec. 18th states that "we remember... the fine promises that were pumped at us... overseas," and suggests that an attempt might be made "for the government to wriggle out of its promises and commitments".

Unfulfilled promises were not "pumped" at us. We were given an opportunity to study the rehabilitation programme, and the benefits for which we found ourselves eligible far surpassed our expectations. Simple arithmetic indicated that we couldn't live in luxury on $60.00, but our tuition was to be paid, and we had enough faith in ourselves to be willing to invest what savings we had in our future, believing a sound education to be the best investment possible. This investment in ourselves would be impossible without the generous help we are getting—help which has not deviated in any way from that promised.

We would not be human if we refused to accept any money given us, but some people seem to forget that the government cannot conjure money out of thin air. It would benefit us far more in the long run to have taxes reduced—taxes we all pay, directly and indirectly.

We do agree that a man unable to continue his training should be helped, but do not consider that this help requires an across the board raise.

Since delegates to the national conference voice strong approval of this policy before being elected, our executive is justified in feeling that a change of opinion has occurred in the Society. This does not detract from the spirit of that part of the policy which indicated a determination to fight for help for needy veterans. In fact the policy approved on Oct. 28th has been ably carried out. We thank the executive, and express confidence in its handling of a thankless task.

Eleven Veterans.

Dear Sir:
Congratulations to the committee in charge of the A.C.S. Ball in their foresight in obtaining one of Canada's smoothest orchestras. We have noticed recently in this column that certain parties are bemoaning the fact that the date for this ball has been changed to a Thursday night. Although it may cause some inconvenience to some parties, there are still other parties who are very glad of the change. Saturday morning lectures are as hard to attend as Friday morning.

Stan Patton's orchestra is a very good choice for such a formal affair. Having attended the Junior Prom, we found the orchestra in attendance to be sadly lacking in the experience necessary for such an occasion. The type of music was poorly chosen. Rumbas, tangos, etc., are nice for variation, but when you are continually forced to mix your drinks by such methods, it becomes a bit boring. It was also slightly annoying to listen to an inebriated vocalist.

Again, congratulations to the A.C.S. committee.

Little Symphony
Tonight at 8.45

At the Hermitage this evening the Little Symphony of Montreal, under Bernard Naylor's direction, will give a program of music by Handel, Haydn, Mozart, Schubert and Purcell. One of the symphonies to be played is Mozart's No. 25, in G minor, a work of his youth, not to be confused with the greater G minor, which was one of his last symphonies. The other symphony is Haydn's in B flat, known as "La Reine".

The Fantasia upon a single note by Purcell, in which instruments of the orchestra play around a single note held by a viola, will be followed by a light work of Schubert. Five German Dances with seven Trios and a Coda; and Handel's Concerto in D major will end the program.

Political Comment

Young Quebec Wants a Better Life. There has been much unrealistic talk lately by people in high places about Canadian unity. Unrealistic, not because the unity of the Canadian people, and the dissolution of prejudices and unreasoning hatreds is not a desirable thing, but because the speeches in question fail to get to the real root, of the problem. The main cause of disunity is the fact that hundreds of thousands of Canadians are unjustly condemned to poor health, economic insecurity, low wages and living standards in a country whose tremendous wealth and productive resources make all these things unnecessary.

In many of these fields the province of Quebec has the doubtful honor of being a particularly depressed area. This is particularly so in contrast with the neighbouring industrial province of Ontario. Quebec has fewer schools, almost no public libraries, a tremendous lack of recreational facilities for youth, and lower standards of wages and working conditions than Ontario. In brief, there is in our province every excuse and provocation for feelings of resentment, disunity and prejudice. The youth of Quebec are the worst victims of these conditions.

The minimum wage in Quebec is 26 cents an hour, $10.40 for a forty hour week. Tens of thousands of young people are employed in dead-end jobs paying starvation wages of 28 to 45 cents an hour. They are forced to accept such employment because they are untrained, have no skill or craft. In Montreal for example there is only one technical high school.

The textile industry, long notorious for its starvation wages and inhuman working conditions is typical of Quebec. Pre-war starting rate for child labor was 16 cents an hour. After years of bitter struggle the union has raised that to 35 cents. The plants are dirty, dusty and damp. The temperature is often as high as 100 degrees. Only the bitterest trade union battles were able to win increases, better working conditions and shorter hours from the textile barons supported by Duplessis. Today the leaders of the textile union face terms of imprisonment as a result of their participation in the recent victorious strike at Valleyfield.

Low wages, speed-up, fatigue, no recreation, little training and insecurity results in disease and broken bodies. Quebec is notorious throughout the world for its high infant mortality and T.B. rates. In 1944 in Quebec 842 children died of pneumonia as against 329 in Ontario.

MOVIES

"CLOAK AND DAGGER"

Gary Cooper is a nuclear physicist who is lured into the O.S.S. to contact a variety of German physicists who have the inevitable secret that the Americans want. He falls in love with a newcomer to the American screen, Lili Palmer. The plot proceeds inevitably to a foregone conclusion. The direction is Hollywood, the acting Hollywoodian, and the suspense is all there is to recommend.

O. H.

There were 7,647 cases of T.B. here as against 2,731 in Ontario, and so on.

The Quebec section of the Federation of Labor Youth has undertaken a provincial campaign which is a practical example of the correct way to build Canadian unity. The aim of this campaign is to unite thousands of youth behind the demand that the Duplessis Government through its Ministry of Youth, act to put an end to the disgraceful conditions outlined above. A petition bearing thousands of names is to be presented to the Quebec cabinet by a representative youth delegation early in March. This petition asks for a genuine youth bill which would comprise:

- (1) A provincial minimum wage of 65 cents an hour.
- (2) Signing of the National Physical Fitness Act to provide recreational facilities and instruction.
- (3) Implementation of the Dominion Provincial Youth Training plan to provide adequate training for both veterans and civilians.

This petition is to be circulated on our campus with the hope that all students who wish to contribute towards the happiness and unity of Canadian young people will sign it. W. ORNSTEIN, ENG. III.

Dawson Cagers Resume MBL Play Against Budds

Victory Tomorrow Means Second Spot To Goldbloom Five

By LARRY SIROTA
(Daily Staff Writer)

Another one of those "crosstal" contests, in which the Dawson Senior cage quintet have been in the habit of playing of late, is on tap tomorrow night at the Currie gym, when the Goldbloom Goodies take on a slumping Budds entry in the opener of an M.B.L. doubleheader. A win for the collegians would hoist them into a second place tie with Migos, just 4 points behind the Y Blues.

BOTH TEAMS SLUMPING

Right now both the St. Johns lads and the Budds boys are in the throes of a long slump, the Collegians being winless since their last triumph over Migos, while the Budds team have failed in their previous three outings also. This means that both squads will be going all out to cop the garlands, with no quarter given.

The Dawson dapper dippers seem to be just about ready to hit a winning gait, as the recent performances of Kenny Taylor, Frankie Gearey and Sammy Evans have added considerable prestige and scoring punch to the Red and Blue five. With Coach Goldbloom gradually rounding into pre-season form, the Dawson doodlers are bound to be a going concern deman.

BUDDS NO CINCH

In Freddie Bridel, the Budds team have the most sensational rookie ever to break into senior cage circles. The 17 year old youth is currently third in the M.B.L. scoring list and a barrage of points would give him the lead. In addition, Ronnie Blackburn, steady veteran rearguard, is just about due to hit his usual high scoring performance, and he, too, will bear plenty of watching.

It is a case of speed, fire and youth against experience tomorrow eve, so take your pick. A huge Dawson cheering body along with the female cheerleading threesome are expected to live up to proceeding no end. Buses will be chartered for the trip.

Entries for a ping-pong tournament will be accepted tonight in the Table - Tennis room of the Dawson Gymnasium, organizer Lou Satov revealed today. An entrance fee of 15 cents will be charged to cover cost of supplies, and Satov states that the top men in this meet will form a team to play McGill this winter.

Flags and Flushes

by Schwes

A highly rated McGill ski team heads south of the border this Thursday evening in quest of new honors in the International ski world. The Redmen are highly respected in U.S. skiing circles after their sensational victory in last year's competition at Dartmouth and will have to go a long way to prove to all and sundry that they are still the top team around these parts.

TEAM NAMED

After a whole week of careful coaching and pruning on the St. Jovite slopes, the McGill skiing brain trust, composed of coaches Luggi Foeger, Harry Pangman and manager George Riley, finally selected the eight-men squad for the carnival at Middlebury this weekend. The team retains the following members from last year's sextet: Kandahar Champ Don Staniforth, Dartmouth victor Kaare Olsen, jumping wizard Johnny Foster, Bob Tilden, hard luck guy of the ocel, and Art Bruneau, steady mainstay of the Redmen. Reinforcing the Red and White hopefuls will be newcomers Ken Thomas, the Ottawa comet, Baz Davis, who created quite a furore with his jumping and cross-country feats before his spell in the Army, and Johnny Tyler, polished youth racing artist.

INTERFACULTY MEET

This team is by no means the final product for the Dartmouth and I.S.U. championships and showings of those considered as possible team calibre will be closely watched in all further meets during the season. An important interfaculty cross-country race is slated for this Sunday at Shawbridge in conjunction with the Zone Championships. All members of the Zone, wishing to participate in the grind, will be required to enter in the usual manner by this Thursday. Those without Zone cards are also invited and arrangements will be made for them to race.

Red Shorts

by habs

There will be an inter-section doubles tournament in badminton in the first week of February details of which will be announced later, so you had better get yourself a partner and start battling those birds across the nets.

BADMINTON GAME

Last Tuesday, January 14, the girls played in the Murray League against the M.A.A.A. and they were beaten by fifteen games to one. The next game McGill plays in the League is to-day against Mount Royal.

Hockey practices are starting today, with the weather permitting that is, with Bill Orson coaching. The practices will be held on Tuesdays and Fridays from 3 to 5. There is definitely going to be a game against Queen's so you had better get out there as soon as possible, especially all you Phys. Eds.

Mrs. McCarthy is up coaching squash from 2.30 to 3.45 on Tuesdays and there is a Thursday morning practice, without any coach, but now is the time to get in shape for the inter-section tourney in February.

SWIMMING BEGINS

The swimming for any water babies on the campus begins today. The practices are on Tuesdays from 2:00 to 3:30, and on Thursdays from 10:00 to 12:00. All you have to bring along is a bathing suit, cap and towel.

Pat Brown deserves congratulations for a superb performance in fencing. Pat is only a beginner and is a very plucky player. She was pitted against more experienced players and won a match; she was defeated by the provincial champion by one point.

The archery meet is today and the winner gets 30 points, the runner-up 20 points, and the third person 10 points. Each competitor gets one point for his section. There is a practice from two on. Don't forget to sign up for the Ski-House, and pay your registration fee of 25 cents when you sign. The basketball practices will be on Tuesday, 3 to 5; Thursday, 7.30 to 9.30, and Saturday, 10 to 12, up in the Currie Gym. There will be a big game in the Currie Gym at 7.30 this Thursday, January 23, with McGill Junior and Senior teams playing the Y.W.C.A. so how about coming out and supporting the teams.

McGill Squash Squad Beaten By Army Team

Last weekend the McGill Squash Team went down to defeat 4-1 before a strong Army squad at West Point. Although beaten handily in total matches the individual games were very tight as nine out of the eighteen played went to deuce.

MACFARLANE SHINES

Guy Macfarlane showed great form in coming through with McGill's only win by downing Al Geraci 15-8, 15-13, 15-13. Playing in the number five slot, Andy Le-Meurier lost two close heart-breaking games to go down 14-4, 12-15, 17-16, 17-15 against Ed Willford.

The match between the two number one players was closely fought all the way as Russ Ball of Army downed Pete Landry 15-10, 15-11, 17-18; 16-17, 17-15. Number two man Bob Colquhoun went down before Bill Doherty's blazing racket 17-16, 15-12, 18-16. Dave Culver ran into a tough nut in the form of Charlie Oliver who two years ago was ranked number eight in the national rankings in tennis south of the border. Dave lost 15-10, 15-12, 15-12.

GENERAL TAYLOR PRESENT

An interested spectator and number one player among the officers at the Point was superintendent Major-general Taylor, former US commander at Bastogne during the battle of the Bulge. It is through his direction that all cadets must take squash instruction under coach Lief Nordlie as part of their regular courses. Another spectator was Cadet John Poulson who played football at McGill in 1941-42. John was understudy to Doc Blanchard last season and is expected to play first string half-back next year.

Curran Crew

McGill Swimmers Will Contest Annual Meet With Y Tomorrow

Vic Curran, the McGill swim coach, last night announced the lineup for the annual McGill YMCA meet to take place Wednesday night at 8 p.m.

Last year the Redmen nosed out the Y team by a 36-31 score and hope to do a repeat performance this year.

TEAM NAMED

Those to compete for the big Red team are Dick Fullerton and Bill Elder, flashy 50 yard stylist. In the center spot will be Jim Quayle, present intercollegiate champion and Gerry Cooper. The Middle distance men are Ernie Taylor, Dr. (T) E. Young, Mammy Hoffman and Norm Aston from down under Dawson, way. Meanwhile Stan Christie, Sid Webster and Tom Hope will be out to show the Y men how to swim backstroke.

Our backstrokers include Harry Walford, Bill Emmington, and butterfly Renee.

ATHENS BACK

Last, but not least, George Athens, present Dominion diving champion, will be very much in evidence. He will be assisted in this capacity by capable Dick Fullerton, who has

Floor Hockey Play Continues At St. Johns

It seems like everything happened in floor hockey play at Dawson. Not only were there several fights and plenty of rough play, but even the referee was slugged! "Genial Jack" Goldwater, league manager, was acting as referee for the evening, and during the Jovial Joes-Moyse Boys battle, he became embroiled in a melee. Jack handed out a penalty and was attacked from behind, and flattened with one swing. He has been suspended from further play.

The teams are in the midst of the quarter-finals, and play a two-of-three-game series. In the first game of the evening, Bearcats trounced Frooles 7-4. Jean Gauthier and Andre Bedard each netted a brace for the Flying Frenchmen, and Fred Hoard, Ell Wilson and Fern Taquette completed the scoring. Knobby Laing and Sally Harvey sank the doughnuts for the losers.

Moyse Boys walloped Jovial Joes 6-2 in their contest, and by this time the crowd had reached 300! George Rathwell counted twice for the winners, while Bob Trescho, Wally Stethem, Herb Young, and Johnny Phihlain also scored. Jim Gray and Herb Thompson denied the twines for the Jovial Joes.

The big game of the night, as far as the crowd was concerned, was the Alkies-Grendels affair, played before a packed gallery. The big star of the battle was Russ Brochie, who scored five of the Alkies goals in the 8-2 slaughter. Jim Knubley, Ashton and Barrett finished off the Alkies' scoring. Brophy and Gord Ball were the only goal getters for the Grendels.

The teams meet again tonight.

The Sports Editor, The McGill Daily, January 20.

Dear Sir:

The results of the downhill race in Sunday's interfaculty meet at Ste. Sauveur cannot be relied upon. The watches were in error at the end of the race and varied in such a way that we have not yet been able to compute the proper corrections to be used.

We should not have allowed the results to be turned in to you, and wish to express our regrets to all the skiers concerned.

If the results cannot be correctly worked out, we shall attempt to re-run the downhill later on in the season.

Sincerely yours, JOHN DOHAN, for the race committee.

Faculty Weightlifters To Compete Saturday

On Saturday Feb. 8th the McGill Weightlifting Club is having its annual inter-faculty meet. All those interested are asked to turn out and lift for their faculty. Here's a chance for the lads who buy their shoulders from their nearest tailor to show what they can do.

Bodyweight classes range from the 125 lb. class to the heavyweight class which is anyone over 181 lbs. The 132 lb. class was the case last year will be virtually uncontested, but in the 148 lb. class, last year's champion, Martin Franklin will be the man to beat. The 165 lb. class will be hotly contested by two powerful boys, Don Cochrane and Jack King. Herculean Alan Pavo who placed 3rd in the Mr. Montreal contest of last year, will of-

Red Puckmen Face Verdun and Granby In Midweek Tilt

To prime up for their next regular league game against the unpredictable Carabins, McGill's senior hockey team will play the Verdun Eagles tonight at the Verdun Auditorium, and will then journey to Granby for a game against the team there on Wednesday.

"Unpredictable" is just about the right word to describe the puck chasers from over the mountain, for their record shows a collection of wins and losses which prove that anything can be expected. So far this season, they have racked up one win and two losses for the three games in which they have taken part, and although the Redmen managed to cop the laurels in the first contest, the score was very close, and our boys will have to play heads up hockey to repeat the verdict.

VARSITY TRIMS CARABINS

On the other hand, the flying Frenchmen did anything but fly in their game against Varsity and were beaten decisively. Nothing daunted, however, they came right back and upset the apple cart for Queen's when they soundly trounced the Gaels in Montreal on Saturday night. All in all, then, the McGills will be meeting a surprise package in the coming game, and anything can happen.

It is reported that coach Campbell is not entirely satisfied with the showing that is being made by his boys. Apparently they are not fer stiff opposition in the light heavyweight class and Nelson King, the present heavyweight champion, will probably lift in this class as well.

Competition will be based on the three Olympic lifts, the press, snatch, and clean and jerk. Anyone wishing further information please contact Nelson King at WL 6289 between 6-3 p.m.

Dawson Five In Vital Game With Georgians

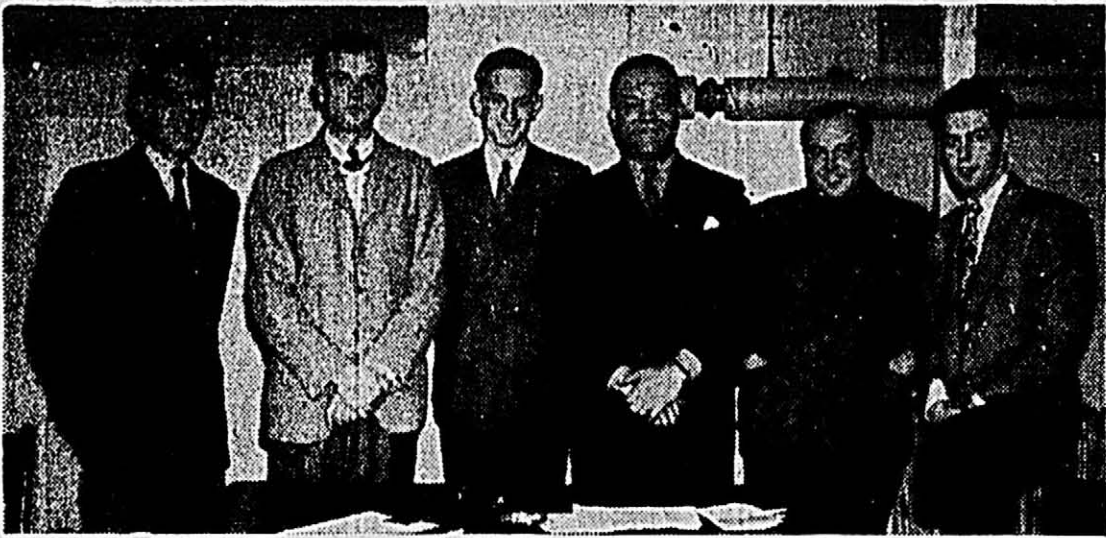

A fighting Dawson Intermediate five will go all out to break a current two-game losing streak tomorrow night, when they meet up with a rival Sir George Williams squad in a league fixture in the small gym. Having dropped their last two outings to the rampaging Loyola team and the third place McGill entry, it is expected that the St. Johns lads will bring home the bacon if they are to gain a playoff position.

The lowly Georgians have yet to win their first game and will be mighty hard to stop in quest for their first victory. They have undergone a considerable face lifting since the last time these two teams clashed and coach Armstrong has instilled a real fighting brand of ball into the Drummond dandies.

GODEL SPARKPLUG

On the other hand, the vialling Dawson crew have added their ace performer, Ellie Godel, to an already star-studded list that features such capable hoopla artists as Tig Chaloner and Brian Lang. They have been working out steadily with the senior team lately and have sharpened up their scoring eyes, as result. If practice performances are any criterion, the Dawsonites will floor a red hot team tomorrow, one that will take a lot of beating.

'Old McGill '47' Will Offer Revised, Enlarged Format

Managing Board of Annual Plan Complete Dawson Section

The editorial board of "Old McGill '47" has completely revamped the layout of the Annual, in line with their policy of presenting as complete a picture as possible of life and activities on the McGill campus. The different sections have been re-arranged, and improvements made in the layouts and materials used.

DAWSON SECTION

The most important change in the Annual this year is the inclusion of a Dawson Section, which will provide a complete picture of life and activities at the St. John's branch of Old McGill. Included in this section will be a Dawson "Campus Life," a Dawson Sports Section, and a section on Dawson Clubs and Societies. In this way, complete coverage of all aspects of Dawson College life will be assured. Dawsonites with a bent for candid photography may contribute to the Campus Life Section by turning in snaps of their friends and cohorts for publication. They should be given to the Dawson Editor, Eric Harvey, in Building 5A, or left for him at the Post Office.

One of the most popular sections of previous years' Annals, the Campus Diary, which provides a record of the many social events held on the campus during the year, has been enlarged, and the layout changed to approximate more nearly a diary. There are six or seven staff photographers working on this section alone, and some of its pages are already being set up by the printers. There will be four or five pages of this section devoted to the Graduates' Reunion, which was such an important part of the social life of McGill during the early part of the year.

CAMPUS LIFE PHOTOS
The companion "Campus Life" section is devoted to the students themselves, and features unposed, informal shots taken by students and submitted by them. There is still room for more photos, but the deadline for turning them in is February 15. They should be addressed to the Photography Editor, and left at the "Old McGill" office in the basement of the Union.

The Clubs and Societies section is still not complete; about 25 clubs still have not had their pictures taken, and write-ups are missing from several more. The final date for turning in these photos and write-ups is February 1st, but it may be extended if it is feasible, and enough have not been received. Any club which has not as yet completed its write-up should hand it in as soon as possible, or run the risk of not appearing in the Annual this year.

SPORTS INCOMPLETE

Many of McGill's major sports, including Hockey, Basketball, and Skiing are not yet over, and that section of the Annual is far from complete in consequence. Until the results are in from these sports, they can not be written up, but it is hoped that all team pictures will have been taken by about the second week in February. Sports this year have increased considerably since last year and the space devoted to them has been enlarged in proportion. Dawson sports will be in the Dawson section of the Annual.

For the first time in the history of "Old McGill" the Art Department has taken over complete charge of all page layouts. In former years, the editors of the various sections made their own set-ups, which sometimes resulted in a very unprofessional type of page. With the Art Department in charge this year, there will be a more unified policy in the format of all parts of the Annual. Frontispieces for the sections are being

Westernaires To Play At Hockey Dance

The regular post-game Hockey Dance will be held next Friday following the McGill-U. of M. tilt at the Forum. Teams 8 and 14 of the Red and White Society are in charge of all arrangements for the affair, which will be open to all students and their friends.

It will take place in the Sir Arthur Currie Gym, starting at about 10 o'clock, and will feature the dance music of the "Westernaires"—an orchestra which has become well-known at many campus dances. Buses will be provided to take students from the Forum to the Gym after the game. Buses will be on St. Luke St. at North end of the Forum; the tickets for this service will be 10c apiece, and will be sold on the night of the game both at the Forum and on the buses.

Tickets for the dance will sell for 50 cents per person; starting tomorrow, they will be obtainable from Walter in the Arts Building, Fred in the Engineering Building, and in the Union Tuck Shop. The dance is again a stag or drag proposition.

It is hoped that many of the "Carabins" from our sister university over the Mountain will be in done by the Art Editors, as is usual.

CARTOONS WANTED

A cartoon contest is also being held for the benefit of all amateur artists on the campus. The best of the cartoons submitted will be published in "Old McGill" and should be handed in to the Cartoon contest Editor at the Annual Office, or to George in the Union Tuck Shop. This is a golden opportunity for talented people who can wield a pencil, to see their work in print.

'Old McGill' Pics Required Immediately

Graduates Editor Sue Koohtow announced that due to the large increase of graduates this year, several faculties still have not had their pictures taken. However, Commerce has just been finished and Engineering will begin very shortly. Students of the several smaller faculties, which have not been run, such as Law, are asked to have their pictures taken at their earliest possible convenience at Jacoby Studios. Any students in faculties, which have been completed and who have not been photographed, are asked to do so at their earliest possible convenience. It is also announced that many students have not yet turned in their biographies. All such are asked to pick up a biography form from the Tuck Shop, or Jacoby Studios and hand them in before Feb. 1. No biographies will be accepted under any circumstances after this date—it is the last deadline.

attendance at the dance, and a special invitation is extended to all Graduates at the game to come along and meet the undergraduates.

Yearbook on Sale For Cash or Cheque

Bill Kilgour, Sales Manager of the annual this year, has announced that "Old McGill '47" is now on sale in all faculties and that it is offering many new features to all undergraduates. It is felt that this year's edition will be of more general interest to the students of all years.

Because of the lack of caution money this year, all sales will be by cheque or cash sales. If the annual is being ordered by cheque, it may be post-dated if desired. All canvassers will be provided with receipt forms for cash sales, and these receipts should be signed by both purchaser and canvasser. The only exceptions to the rule of cash sales will be Medicine and Dentistry, which are the only faculties that are not included in the straight caution levy. These two faculties may still order their annuals by signing lists, which are now posted in the Medical Building.

Canvassers in the faculties of Arts, Science and Engineering will be the class executives and team captains of the various years. In faculties which are not organized as Arts, Science and Engineering are, canvassers chosen by the Sales Manager will act as salesmen. Should any student in any faculty not be approached by a canvasser, there will be cheques left with the janitors in all buildings.

The campaign this year will be short and concentrated for it is felt with this year's bigger and better annual, with the increased Campus Life and Campus Diary, the interest will be high amongst students, and sales will go that much faster.

PERSONAL NOTICE

Ex-RCAF 10 B R members. It has brought to my attention that a large number of ex-members of RCAF squadron 10 B-R of Newfoundland is now attending McGill. In compliance with the wishes of a group of former members at Dawson College, it is my intention to form a club which would be reminiscent of our former "dos" which we all enjoyed in Newfy. An one of these ex-members interested, please contact R. W. Camus at Dawson College, St. John's, Que.

Arts Debates Scholarships For Athletics

At noon today in the Union Ballroom, one of the Campus' most controversial subjects will be reopened when the Arts and Science Debating Club presents the resolution "Resolved: that Athletic Scholarships should be introduced at McGill."

Supporting the resolution will be Johnny Piper and Leonard Waldman while on the negative side will be Tom Bird and Bill Tetley. Ted Hugesson will act as judge and will later offer criticism of the speakers and their material.

The controversy reached its climax last term when Doug Kerr resigned as football coach because of criticism of his coaching method. Recently, the special investigation committee submitted its report to the Principal and it is expected that this report will come in for comment.

The Debating Society has announced that lunches may be brought along and eaten during the debate.

'Fiesta' Opens Skit Contest Seek Players

"La Puebla de las Mujeres," a two act comedy, together with an original skit, Spanish costume dances, and piano and singing solos will be the features of the Spanish Fiesta, now in production for presentation early in March. "La Puebla" is a comedy involving a handsome young lawyer and his troubles with the local beauties and the wagging tongues of a small Spanish town. Many characters common to small towns everywhere appear in this play, including an old Physician, (R. Chenet), a village beauty, (Cicely Ambridge), a jealous village boy, (Jean Bolte), a newly arrived young big city lawyer, (Bob Gail), and a priest, played by Leon Davicho.

Ten dollars is offered to the author of the best original skit, to be used in the Fiesta, and $5 for the best program cover design. The skit should last about 15 minutes while the design should have a distinctive South American motif. Further details of these two competitions can be had from producer Leon Davicho who can be reached at Ex. 2633.

Spanish one and two students are particularly invited to take part in this production, according to the producer, and boys and girls are still needed for singing, dancing and acting parts.

Club News

PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE CLUB

The club will meet to-day at one o'clock in the Union Music Room to complete final arrangements for tomorrow's Model Parliament. All members and supporters are very strongly urged to be present at this meeting since it will provide an opportunity to clear up any last minute doubts or questions which may exist.

All students are reminded of the Model Parliament tomorrow evening at eight o'clock in the Ball Room. It is emphasized that a student need not be a member of one of the political parties to take part in the discussions and vote on the Bill.

Students are also reminded of the address of E. Davie Fulton, D.S.O., M.P., on Thursday afternoon at one o'clock in the Ball Room. Mr. Fulton will speak on "Why a Bill of Rights?" and his remarks on this subject should be well worth hearing.

A Phys. student, will handle all the rhythm numbers.

Colour glamour shots on slides of the featured coeds in the Revue will also be shown. Some of these shots are said to be eyeopeners. The whole show will be MC'ed by Bas Brewer and Ian Fraser.

Puckmen—p. 3

VERDUN AND GRANBY

The Verdun Eagles, although dwelling in the cellar of the P.H.L. play a good brand of hockey, and will be sure to put up a good fight in this exhibition match. The McGill men will change at the Forum and buses will take them from there to Verdun for the game. On Wednesday, when the boys travel to Granby, they can be prepared for a really different type of play. According to report, the people out there take their hockey seriously, and a pretty rough game is played by all. Still, experience is what counts, and the squad will certainly be well versed in every possible surprise that can be pulled by our intercollegiate rivals.

There are three classes of women: the intellectual, the beautiful and the majority.

PLAYER'S CLUB

Will the following please report this afternoon at 5.00 p.m. in the Union basement for rehearsal of "Command Performance": B. Falconer, S. Goldfarb, M. Speevak, E. Paul, J. Bayer, M. Collins, S. Specator, J. McLachlan, J. Neale and A. Williams. Wanted: One Latin type Male to play the part of an artist. Anyone interested please come down or leave their name with George at the Union.

ARTS AND SCIENCE DEBATING CLUB

"Resolved that Athletic Scholarships should be introduced at McGill" is the subject to be debated today at 1 p.m. in the Union Ballroom. John Piper and Leonard Wald will uphold the affirmative while Tom Bird and Bill Tetley will take the negative. Ted Hugesson, holder of a gold key for debating, will criticize each speech. This criticism will provide valuable training for the audience as well as for the speakers themselves. Lunches and prejudices are in order during the debate.

Lady should you ever meet
One who's ways are all discreet,
One who tells you that his wife
Is the lode-star of his life:
One who keeps assuring you
That he never was untrue,
Never loved another one . . .
Lady, lady, better run!
THE GEORGIAN.

APPLIED MATHEMATICS

"My daughter," and his voice was stern
"What time did the Sophomore leave,
You must set this matter right;
Who called on you last night?"
"His Probs were pressing, father dear
And his love for them was great,
He took his leave and went away
Before a quarter of eight."

Then a twinkle came to her bright blue eyes,
And her dimple deeper grew,
"Tis surely no sin to tell him,
That a quarter of eight is two."

Nora: "Well, after his behavior yesterday, I will never go fishing with George again as long as I live."
Marj.: "Heavens, what did he do?"
Nora: "Oh, he just fished."
